Public health ATS interventions must reflect an incipient appreciation for the role that social relations, culture, and "meaning making" (explanatory models) have on patterns of ATS-related risk.